

LIVE NEWS OF TWO PITTSBORNS

Events of the Upper End of Luzerne County Briefly Narrated.

ARE HELD IN BAIL FOR LARCENY

Frank Valecki and Frank Machette, Italians, Arraigned Before Squire Gibbons and Then Transferred to the County Tribunal—Seventh Ward Democrats Hold a Lively Caucus. Butcher Lewis' House Slightly Damaged by Fire—Miscellaneous News.

The SCRANTON TRIBUNE's Pittsboro department is in charge of J. M. Faly, to whom news items and complaints may be referred.

Squire Gibbons' office was the scene of an interesting larceny case Saturday evening. Ferdinand Incuti, who conducts a boarding house on South Main street, was the prosecutor. He charged Frank Valecki with the robbery of $100 and implicated Frank Machette and Stephen Leon as accomplices. Attorney C. Frank Bohan appeared as counsel for Incuti and attorneys Charles Bohan, M. N. Donnelly and Elias Cohen, of Wilkes-Barre, represented the defendants.

Incuti testified Valecki boarded with him up to a few days ago when he unceremoniously left. Incuti discovered when Valecki disappeared the loss of $100 which he alleged he had stung in a trunk for a rainy day. Upon investigation he found Valecki had given Machette and Leon $50 of the money.

To these statements the defendant pleaded "not guilty" and claimed it was a job concocted by Incuti to abstract money from them. The case was full of interest throughout and created much amusement for the large number of spectators present. The squire, after listening to the testimony, decided to hold the defendants in the sum of $100 bail each for their appearance at court.

LIVELY DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

Voters of the Seventh Ward Meet and Nominate Officers.

In pursuance of a call by the vigilance committee, the Democratic voters of the Seventh ward held a ward caucus at the Eagle hotel Saturday evening to place in nomination ward officers to be voted for at the coming February election. The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by W. M. Morris, chairman of the vigilance committee. The election of a permanent chairman and secretary was the first business, and resulted in the selection of George Hagadorn and Joseph M. Faly, respectively.

Mr. Hagadorn, after calling attention to the purpose of the call, stated nominations for councilman, school director, assessor, register assessor, judge of election and inspector of election were in order. The usual formalities governing nominations, resulted in the nomination of the following persons: Councilman, George B. Reay; School director, M. W. Morris; Assessor, George M. Hagadorn; Register assessor, George W. Hagadorn; Judge of election, E. B. Buss; Inspector of election, George W. Buss.

Mr. Hagadorn was quite adverse to being named for the two offices, but as the duties pertaining to both are similar, the caucus insisted, whereupon Mr. Hagadorn gracefully acquiesced. The meeting having no other business, adjourned sine die.

THE HOSPITAL BENEFIT.

All Congregations Will Unite in Making Offerings to That Institution.

The Catholic, as well as the Protestant Sunday schools of Pittsboro and West Pittsboro, are to join in the union offering for the hospital on Sunday, January 21. While the hospital is partially supported by the state appropriation there is need of additional contributions from the people of the town for its efficient maintenance. This hospital, open as it is to any poor unfortunate individual, overlooks by accident, is one of the few charities upon which all people of whatever name, race or denomination may unite.

The schools in which the offering will probably be made are as follows: The Methodist, East and West Side; the Presbyterian, East and West Side; the Congregational, East and West Side; the Episcopal, East and West Side; the Catholic schools at North Pittsboro, Pittsboro, and at Inkerman, the Duryea Sunday school, the Milan chapel and the Slocum Chapel Sunday schools and others—Gazette.

The alarm was answered promptly by the fire companies whose timely arrival, succeeded in extinguishing the fire before it got much headway. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

NEWS NOTES IN PARAGRAPHS.

A Grist of Interesting Local Events Told in Brief.

There was a difference in temperatures of 36 degrees yesterday compared with Saturday.

The personal effects of the late Thomas' Stein will be sold tomorrow at executor's sale.

Shafte 8, 10 and 14, Old Forge and Ewen, will be sold today and until further notice.

"Will the Republicans of the borough place a ticket in the field?" is the question heard on all sides. Rumor says they will, and as a result much dissatisfaction is felt by the supporters of the Citizens' movement. The consensus of opinion differs greatly regarding the wisdom of such a move. Many say it would be unwise, while the Republicans who are not disposed to let their party become extinct, locally speaking, are decidedly in favor of naming a ticket. What the Republican borough committee propose to do, at this time is hard to foretell.

During these hard times it would be well to bear in mind the familiar quotation of Franklin: "Beware of expense; a small leak will sink a great ship."

Joe Hittcher will tickle the risibilities of Luzerneville people next Saturday evening with his latest lecture, "Zigzag Tales." The lecture will be under the auspices of the Baptist church.

Our neighboring borough, West Pittsboro, does not lack for political timber in the selection of a burgess, as may be seen from the following list of gentlemen, who, it is alleged, are not adverse to being honored with the nomination of burgess. H. C. Dewey, Joseph Langford, W. C. Burgess, Brenton, L. K. Drake and Harry Coverdell. Ere the time for holding the primaries rolls around several more names are expected to be added to the above list.

Lewis Morrison, who appears at Muskegon, Ill., in connection with "Rags," will be greeted with a reception seldom, if ever, accorded an actor, prices considered, that has visited here. There are but a few seats remaining unsold and the probabilities are they will be sold before the curtain rolls up.

The citizens of the Second ward, irrespective of party affiliations, held a caucus in the school building Saturday evening and nominated the following persons to be voted for at the coming election: Councilman, James Ryan; school director, T. J. O'Brien; judge of election, Thomas W. O'Brien; inspector of election, W. C. Walburn.

The funeral of Mrs. Ellen Gower, of Port Griffith, occurred Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. The remains were conveyed to St. John's Catholic church, where a mass of requiem was sung. Rev. Father Kelly officiating. Interment was made in Market street cemetery.

The funeral of the late Patrick Price took place from his home on Mill street at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning. A mass of requiem was sung at St. John's church. Rev. Father Gove officiating. Interment was made in Market street cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Michael Kelley, Peter Reay, John Gordon, William Dougherty, Anthony Newcomb and John Newcomb.

The Ministerial union of Pittsboro and vicinity will meet in the Young Men's Christian association rooms this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The committee to prepare a scheme of organization will make its report at this time. There are in Pittsboro and parts adjacent more than twenty-five ministers of the Christian religion. All these, of whatever nationality or denomination, are invited to attend this meeting and to participate in the social and literary advantages of the union. The officers elected last Monday are: Rev. J. H. Brittain, president, and Rev. E. H. Eckel, secretary.

A Thankless Man.

He was one of those men with a pleasant-on-the-tail-of-my-coat expression, and as he played across Woodward avenue he would have been never by an electric car if it were possible and bigger citizen had not seen his danger and pulled him back.

"Take your hands off my coat collar, sir! How dare you stop me like that?" he snarled around, striking out wildly.

"Hold on, man! Want to get run over, that you're so broke? If it hadn't been for me, you'd have gone under those wheels, so you would."

"I'll thank you to mind your own business. I know where I am going. I had plenty of time to cross," sputtered the wrathful man.

"And I say you had not. I measured the distance with my eye, and you couldn't have done it."

"I'll thank you to keep your distance, sir. I insist upon it, there is no danger. You took a most unwarrantable liberty with me, sir, that's what."

"Did, hey?" cried the stranger, catching him up again by the coat collar, who had just released. "Now, here's another electric car coming—it is just about when the other was over you, go if you don't ask my pardon in a jiffy for not letting you get killed. Quick! Say the word."

"I—I—I—much obliged, I'm sure, sir," the other made a motion to throw him. "You've saved my life now"—as the car went by—"if you ever dare."

But he was given a lifeline that landed him on the opposite sidewalk, and as he stood there shaking with rage the big citizen walked off laughing over his first attempt as a life saver.—Detroit Free Press.

The Origin of a Famous Motto.

The following account of the origin of a well known motto for a timepiece, whether true or false, is worth recording. Some years ago a new clock was made to be placed in the Temple hall. When finished, the clockmaker was desired to wait on the benches of the temple, who would think of a suitable motto to put under the clock. He applied several times, but without getting the desired information, as they had not determined on the inscription. Continuing to importune them, he at last came when the old benches were met in the Temple hall and had just sat down to dinner.

The workman again requested to be informed of the motto. One of the benches, who thought the application ill timed and who was fonder of eating and drinking than inventing original mottoes, testily replied, "Go about your business." The mechanic, taking this for an answer to his question, went home and inserted at the bottom of the clock, "Go about your business," and placed it on the Temple hall, to the great surprise of the benches, who upon considering the circumstance agreed that accident had produced a better motto than they could think of, and ever since the Temple clock has continued to remind the lawyers and the public to go about their business.—Million.

Like Her Ownself.

There was a certain actress whose charms and vivacity had long been proverbial. "Father," said a young man with enthusiasm, "she is an angel and I love her!" He was speaking of the lady, whose name we have not given, and he added, "Stop! Not a word! I believe her to be an angel. I adore her, and I won't allow you to breathe a syllable against her."

"Certainly not," said the father, "certainly not. Why, I adore her myself when I was your age."—London Tit-Bits.

Criticizing a Young Lady.

"She would be a pretty girl for but one thing."

"What's that?" asked Charley.

George—Her face is always covered with purple and red blotches.

Charley—You're talking about a discolored face. Used to be the same way myself, but I caught on to the trouble one day, and got rid of it in no time.

George—You're right. Took a short course of P. P. P. I tell you, it's the best blood corrector. The governor had rheumatism so bad that you could hear him roller skate across the country every time he moved. He tried it, and you know what an athletic old man he is now. ancestors of the Ancients. The figures of the gods in ancient Egypt were represented on the monuments for ages in animal organization of the local population run on totem lines. Each deity had different beast gods. In the royal genealogy the early Egyptians actually considered themselves descendants of animals. The primitive element in the early Greek religion has been preserved in the "sacred chapters," fragments of which have been given us by Herodotus, Pausanias and others proving that the oldest images of the Greek gods were represented in animal forms, and that the different royal houses claimed descent from animals. LIKE A THIEF IN THE NIGHT.

Consumption comes. A slight cold, with your system in the scrofulous condition that is caused by impure blood, is enough to fasten it upon you. Consumption is Lung-Scrofula. You can prevent it, and you can cure it, if you haven't waited too long, with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. For Scrofula, Weak Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all severe, lingering Coughs, Pierce guarantees a cure.

"Before taking the 'Discovery' I would have four or five bad coughing spells every day and would cough up mouthfuls of solid white sputum, and before I took one bottle it stopped it. I could not walk across the room with the pain in my back and sides; but since the pain was all gone, and the cough was all gone, and my general health is much better since taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery' although I have been obliged to work hard on a farm."
